A stack of weathered logs, heavily covered in vibrant green moss, is the central focus of the image. The logs are stacked horizontally, with some showing signs of decay and splitting. The background is a misty forest with bare trees and some green foliage on the right side. The overall atmosphere is damp and natural.

ROUGH WEATHER
AREA

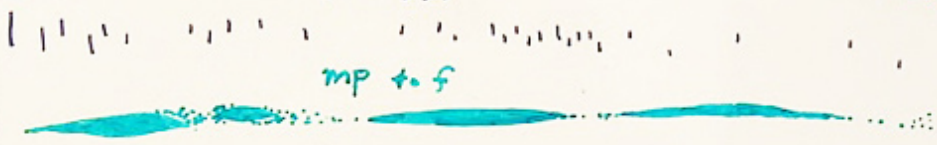

0:00

f to fff

0:59

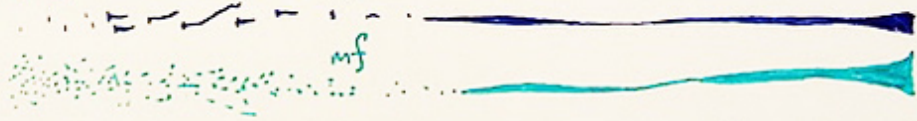

mp to f

1:00

mf

1:59

mf

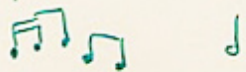

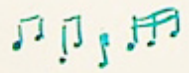

2:00

p to ppp

3:00

p to mp

erik schoster - computer, electronics
brendan landis - guitar

An aerial, slightly blurred photograph of a city street grid. The streets are dark and form a dense pattern of rectangles. In the center of the grid, there is a prominent green area, likely a park or a large lawn, which stands out against the grey and blue tones of the urban landscape. The overall lighting is soft, and the image has a dreamy, artistic quality.

design for small spaces
eyes tight
cars, gently
eastern standard time